The forest “fenced off” to simulate the third runway

Pubblicato: Mercoledì 23 Marzo 2011

Spring begins a day earlier, in via Gaggio. Not just for the sunshine and pleasant temperature, but also for the new meeting of the Viva Via Gaggio movement, who are fighting against the third runway and for a development of Malpensa, which takes into account the territory. If last year was a real collective march, this year the committee volunteers – formed a year ago – have attracted the attention of many visitors to the forest with a type of installation: using tape that have marked the point (at the of beginning of via Gaggio) where the airport area will start and which will be fenced off and inaccessible. "Even yesterday we sat in via Gaggio, we collected more signatures and we continued our work to promote awareness" says Roberto Vielma, who less than a year and a half ago began the movement with a series of videos on YouTube. "Even if it seems impossible, there are still some friends of via Gaggio, intended as a road, that don't know about the disaster that threatens" he explains again: on one side many people still do not know, on the other a battle – after one year – must be revived, to not forget the challenge. The movement maintains high the attention to the theme of the third runway, with the presence in via Gaggio and many meetings in the area. The next is scheduled tonight – Monday, March 21 – at Tornavento, in the Oratory of via Verga.
