ISIS evening courses: an opportunity to highly qualify your job

Pubblicato: Venerdì 4 Maggio 2012

It is still possible to apply for one of the evening courses held at ISIS, Gallarate, Via Stelvio. The courses are as follows: three-year-vocational courses to become mechanic or termotechnic operator; five-year-courses to obtain the diploma for technical maintenance and assistance; five-year-courses in electrical engineering and electronics.

The courses offer students some so called “common subjects” (Italian, English, History. Law studies, Maths) and a variety of “technical subjects” specific for the course attended. The use of modern and well equipped laboratories enables students to put into practice what they learn during the lessons.

The lessons timetable is thought in the respect of the needs of our students-workers; that is why lessons start at 18.10; apart from some courses there is no attendance on Saturdays. Special non-attendance permissions are given in order not to penalize those who can't be at school for job reasons.

ISIS evening courses have existed for a long time and have been attended by hundreds of students-workers.

With its evening courses ISIS represents an important opportunity for training and specializing in the fields that are most required by local industries.

We would like to underline that, at the last “state exams” (at the end of the five-year-courses) the students got excellent marks, in particular the students from the electronic courses.

The course offer the opportunity to enter the world of work with an acquired profession and professionalism (3/5- year-courses) or to go to University (5-year-courses).

An occasion that can't be missed! Our courses are addressed not only to those who want an extra-qualification, but also to the companies and factories who want to update the qualifications of their employees, to CENTRI EDA, to job centres (centri per l'impiego) and to the organizations operating locally.
