Gallarate-Varese line, closed from the end of July

Pubblicato: Mercoledì 3 Luglio 2013

The Gallarate-Varese railway line will be closed for almost one month, from the end of July, into August. From Sunday 28 July, until Sunday 25 August 2013, the train service between the stations of Varese FS and Gallarate will be suspended because of maintenance work to the line, and because of the major Pedemontana work between the stations of Gazzada-Schianno and Castronno.

The service will be provided by replacement buses, which will make the same stops as the trains (link to the map on the Trenord website).

The regional through trains between Milan's Porta Garibaldi Station and Varese FS will not run; trains will run on the Milan-Domodossola line, but only as far as Gallarate, and back; trains on the S5, Varese-Treviglio line will run normally between Gallarate and Treviglio.
