

Trip to the United States; the organization is everything

Pubblicato: Lunedì 4 Novembre 2019

Setting out to discover the United States is a dream of many people. When you decide to organize a holiday in the United States, you must first understand which route you want to follow and then try to organize every detail well, otherwise you may not be able to do everything you want to do. The itinerary must be established at least in principle, and then you must first find out which are the best prices, starting with flights and hotels. The cost of the trip must be clear from the beginning, but you should never exclude from the calculation also the expenses you want to do on the spot and that it could even increase out of all proportion if not calculated well. In fact, the increase in costs is very likely because it is a very expensive country from an economic point of view.

How to organize a trip without unpleasant surprises

In order to avoid making trivial mistakes in the organization of travel to the United States, first of all, it is advisable to buy a round trip ticket. The open flight could indeed be a solution, but you may have problems without a return ticket. The flight must be booked only after you have decided the itinerary without the risk of wanting to insert too many places in a few days. Therefore, check the driving directions before you decide. Among other things to check, there are the climate and seasonality that vary from period to period and that is why they must be studied in detail before leaving. Finally, always find a hotel or apartment at home before you leave. Some areas of America are very crowded, so you might not be able to find accommodation on the spot.

What do you have to bring on a holiday in the United States?

When you leave for a holiday in the USA, you have to do a selection of things to bring with you, it depends whose will be the itinerary. It's appropriate to opt for luggage which are strong because will have to pass some very strict checks. Among those who are the best, we find for example, the Piquadro suitcase, that will be able to deal with all inspections by the American airport police. However, it's important that you have to have always a particular attention to check which are the rules and to have all visas in order.

Choose the best solution for a travel in the United States.

Travel costs are very high to visit the United States: to have the best offers, you have to verify always all the best websites of the sector. You have to add insurance costs that are necessary to enter the country and, moreover, also evaluate other costs as those of petrol, entrances in the sites, food, etc. You have to book flights in plenty of time and you have to study the solution of transport. The United States is a quite expensive country, this is the reason why it's good to manage all the costs carefully. For the visit in the United States of America are required a series of documents as the entrance visa, a valid passport with an expiration of at least six months after, the ESTA for tourists and the international driving licence especially for those who wants to move with car. Before the departure you have to bring a travel guide, to take accessories for electrical socket in order that become compatible and you have to verify if there are request vaccination or a particular healthcare assistance. It's good to check also temporary possible dangers that you can find in that area. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs provides this solution on their site: you will have all the information at your service.

di Translated by Reato & Tantari (Reviewed by Prof. Robert Clarke)